

Ravinia Farmers Market 2023 Sponsorship Opportunities

The Ravinia Farmers Market is located in Jens Jensen Park, in the Ravinia Neighborhood of Highland Park, within easy walking distance of the Metra Union Pacific North line and biking distance of nearby North Shore communities. Operating each Wednesday morning from June 7 – October 25, the Market strives to provide a diverse selection of local and organic produce, eggs and cheeses, artisanal goods and food items, baked goods, meats, breakfast and lunch items, locally-made products, live music, community-centered information and a fun environment for family-centered shopping. The Market features dozens of local farmers/producers/businesses, food vendors, weekly prize drawings for local merchant/vendor gifts and event tickets, natural/organic product goodie bag give-away drawings, customer appreciation days and hundreds of weekly market attendees.

Our Mission

The Ravinia Farmers Market supports the viability of a local agricultural economy, which fosters the stewardship of our land and goodwill in our community by: providing a place for farmers and artisans to sell their goods directly to consumers; educating consumers on the benefits of better nutrition; creating a family friendly atmosphere amid a vibrant gathering place that builds community spirit; and promoting economic development by drawing people to the Ravinia Business District.

Our Goals

- To operate a safe and enjoyable market that benefits customers and vendors
- To retain past market vendors each year
- To add additional variety to the market by adding quality, passionate local small business vendors that share our mission
- To further help create and maintain ongoing vendor-customer relationships through weekly interactions
- To educate customers about the benefits to health and planet of locally grown and sourced foods, organic food and farming, and community resilience
- To meet and exceed the farmers market needs of our community, including customers, vendors, local residents and local governing/community organizations
